ii. Except for any reasonable initial down payment that may be required according to the prevailing practice, payments to the contractor against the construction cost as shown in the tender document are made only based on work performed. Normally, aggregate amounts due on or by completion of the works shall not exceed 90 per cent of the total contract price; the balance of 10 per cent being withheld as a retention that shall not be paid until the satisfactory completion of all work has been verified at the end of the warranty period. Normally the hand-over shall only take place once all work has been satisfactorily completed. If, however, in exceptional circumstances delivery takes place before that time, the delivery document shall refer in detail to all outstanding work to be performed and shall describe all apparent shortcomings and defects. The delivery document shall also provide the date from which the guarantee provisions come into effect. This date shall normally be the date of hand-over or the date of final completion of all work, whichever is later.

The Partner shall immediately inform UNHCR of the occurrence of any of the above events.
