A GLOBAL NGO NETWORK
FOR PRINCIPLED AND EFFECTIVE
HUMANITARIAN ACTION

ICVA BULLETIN

Highlights from September 2019

Message from Executive Director

Not Just the Planet on Fire

The pledges and self-congratulations at the Climate Action Summit should not hide the reality that we need to overhaul our economic system.

No more small talk about the weather...

A relatively small number of fossil fuel producers and their investors have a huge role to play for the transformation of economies in line with sustainable development goals. The barrier is the tension between short-term profitability and the urgent need to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Two million people a week need humanitarian aid today because of the climate emergency and international humanitarian relief efforts are stretching rapidly to breaking point.

Millions of young people swarmed the streets in cities all over the world to pressure governments to take meaningful action against climate change. A few days later, young people were speaking passionately about their role in finding solutions at the UN High Level week (23-27 September) and at the World Economic Sustainable Development Summit (23 September).

But it is not just the planet and climate activists that are on fire. So is the justice movement, shaming politicians, demanding a transformational approach to the crisis, redrawing the political map...

The High Level events two weeks ago at the UN in New York resulted in the announcement of acceleration actions on SDG in addition to the adoption of a SDG Political Declaration, announcements and initiatives on mobilising financing, declarations on new efforts to provide access for all to health systems, solidarity with small island developing States reaffirmed in a political declaration...

The world is literally on fire...

Commitments and pledges will be followed with scrutiny to ensure decision makers are doing more than fiddling with paper straws while the world burns. In the words of Greta Thunberg, "We will be watching you".

Big challenges and hard questions lie ahead.... ICVA and its members will not escape them either.

ICVA Annual Conference

18 March 2020, Geneva

Member Engagement Days 17 & 19 March 2020

Protecting principled humanitarian action:
an honest conversation on risk

“Protecting principled humanitarian action: an honest conversation on risk.” The Annual Conference to be held on 18 March 2020 will look at the risk to principled humanitarian action and in turn the risks taken by NGOs to deliver effective and efficient humanitarian assistance to those most in need. The conference will be preceded by a Members Day on 17 March and followed by a Partners Day on 19 March which will provide an opportunity for NGOs to further engage and interact around the theme. For more information please see the ICVA website.

Survey on Security Risk Management: As part of our work on risk ICVA is cooperating with the Geneva Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies on a research project looking into security risk management and risk aversion in the humanitarian sector. The project will focus on analysing how security risk management is implemented in decision-making processes in NGOs. We would thank you for answering this short survey or passing it to the relevant risk/security staff in your organisation.

Forced migration

1. The Global Compact on Refugees (GCR): Global Refugee Forum

Meeting on co-sponsorship for the Global Refugee Forum (GRF): In September, UNHCR continued to organise several multi-stakeholder meetings of the co-sponsorship groups on the six focus areas for the Forum. The groups worked on gathering suggestions for the GRF Programme, including Spotlight Sessions, High-level Dialogues, and on establishing the groundwork to mobilise pledges and showcase good practices. The notes from ICVA, and its members, from those meetings are available online and additional notes will be added soon. Information on the co-sponsorship groups is also available on UNHCR's website. For more information contact: jerome.elie@icvanetwork.org

Informal briefing on the Global Refugee Forum: On 3 September, UNHCR organised a briefing on the GRF, with a particular focus on modalities for participation at the GRF, the Forum's Digital Platform under development, and the Three-year Strategy on Resettlement and Complementary pathways. ICVA shared detailed notes with NGOs. UNHCR's background notes, agenda and presentation used on this occasion are available here.

ICVA also supported civil society events related to the GCR and GRF, notably:

Faith Action input to Global Refugee Forum: On 4 September, ICVA attended a strategic planning meeting of the Faith Action for Children on the Move Coalition, which includes ICVA members. The meeting supported a discussion about how to shape the Coalition's pledges and contributions to the GRF in line with their Action Plan.

APRRN-APNOR Regional Protection Forum – Towards a 'whole of society approach' in the implementation of the Global Compacts: Over 7-9 September, ICVA contributed to a multi-actor forum convened by the Asia Pacific Network of Refugees (APNOR) and the Asia Pacific Refugee Rights Network (APRRN) in Bangkok. Day 1, a refugee-led event, connected over 100 refugee leaders from the region, who discussed their engagement with the GRF modalities and the APNOR network development. On days 2-3, they were joined by APRRN members, other NGOs, researchers, government and UN officials for further discussions on the GRF, the operationalisation of both Compacts, and how to uphold rights within mixed movements. A key focus was to explore how, under a 'whole of society' approach, sustainable enabling environments can be co-created for the meaningful participation of refugees and other affected people in decisions affecting their lives. A report will be available in the coming weeks on the APRRN website.

Roundtable on 'Exploring synergies in planning for the implementation of the Global Compact on Refugees and the Global Compact on Migration': On 12 September, ICVA attended a lively roundtable organised by ACT Alliance with Member States and civil society. Inclusion and non-discrimination, Promotion of regular and complementary pathways, Child sensitive and gender reception, screening and referral and alternatives to detention were some of the numerous themes discussed.

2. IGAD Nairobi Declaration and Plan of Action: On 18 September, ICVA participated in the Second inter-ministerial stocktaking meeting on the Nairobi Declaration and action plan held in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. ICVA facilitated the participation of some of its members and highlighted the need for NGOs to be involved increasingly in the regional process. The meeting yielded some decisions by IGAD member states that go well into 2020 and provide concrete steps to be undertaken by member states in the lead up to the GRF. A topic emphasised in the meeting was the establishment of an IGAD Support Platform to sustain and encourage broad based support for the implementation of the Nairobi Declaration and the Global Compact on Refugees. For more information please contact: Addis.Tesfa@icvanetwork.org

3. NGO side-event at UNHCR's Executive Committee: At UNHCR's 70th Executive Committee meeting, ICVA is organising an NGO side-event on 'Durable solutions through \(re\)integration: what it takes' (7 October, 9am). Financing

11. Grand Bargain – 19 September Workshop on Quality Funding: Initiated by the combined Quality Funding workstreams within the Grand Bargain (former workstreams 7 and 8 on multi-year planning and funding and reduced earmarking), this workshop brought together more than 50 participants from NGOs, UN agencies and donor governments. Hosted by Canada, ICRC, Sweden, and NRC, the purpose of the workshop was to discuss work done to date on mapping the use and result of quality funding mechanisms and chart the way forward in 2020. Detailed workshop notes will be shared when available, however, there was initial agreement from participants to better define quality funding terms related to multi-year and flexible funding by early 2020. A group of participants also pushed for the identification of focus countries to start the work of developing more clear guidance and tools on quality funding for field practitioners. NGOs were able to develop common messaging on quality funding prior to the workshop to guide the discussion, and ICVA will continue to engage as plans are developed for 2020. For more information, contact jeremy.rempel@icvanetwork.org

12. NRC - Money Where It Counts rollout – 25 September: NRC and Humentum, hosted by ECHO and supported by the Voice Network launched the 'Money Where It Counts' protocol on 25 September in Brussels. Money Where It Counts is a new protocol designed to harmonise cost classification, financial budgeting, and financial reporting across actors in the humanitarian sector. Currently, there are nine NGOs that have participated in the design of the protocol and are committed to implementation moving forward; it is now critical for a broader range of NGO, UN, and donor partners to support the effort. Approximately 65 participants from all 3 groups were present for the Brussels meeting, with positive interest expressed on all sides. For more information visit the website, or contact Luca Peciarolo at NRC: luca.peciarolo@nrc.no

13. IASC Humanitarian Finance Results Group (RG5): RG5 co-chaired by ICVA and OCHA continues to meet on the third Tuesday of each month. RG5 is currently engaged in the first reporting process of the RGs summarising delivered results for the 2019 work plan. Results will be compiled and shared with the IASC OPAG at the November 7-8 meeting in Geneva. Between now and the end of 2019, RG5 key areas of focus include:
